PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO., Hartford, Conn.

- Accelerative Option. — Cash value of dividend additions or accumulations may be used to pay up policy or mature it as endowment. Company will accept premium deposits which will accumulate at excess interest rate, and when sufficient will be used to pay up policy.
- Beneficiary. — May be made irrevocable. Contingent beneficiaries may be named.
- Cash Values. — Any time after two premiums, within 31 days after default. American 3% Level Premium reserve ("Seventy Special," 3½%), with surrender charge up to 10th year not exceeding $10 per $1,000.
- Change of Plan. — No provision. Practice to change to higher premium form by payment of difference in premiums with 6% interest. Practice to change to lower premium form.
- Disability. — For varying extra premium, policy will provide, prior to age 60, for (a) waiver of premiums; or (b) waiver of premiums and payment of monthly income of $10 per $1,000, beginning immediately upon proof of permanent total disability, or after total disability has existed for six months, and continuing during life time; no reduction in insurance at maturity. Payments continue after maturity of endowment. Does not cover disability from war service. Disability Benefit "C" adopted April 1922; provides monthly income of $10 per $1,000 in event of (a) total disability (though presumably of a temporary nature), resulting from sickness or accident, which has existed for at least thirty days; (b) total disability resulting from sickness or accident which totally incapacitates the insured and which will presumably be permanent; or (c) total and permanent loss through sickness or accident of use of both hands or both feet or of one hand and one foot or sight of both eyes. Payments under (b) and (c) begin immediately; under (a) after 30 days. If disability is of nature described under (b) or (c) premiums waived; or if as described in (a), after six months if disability has existed continuously. If insured becomes totally and permanently disabled under "S. S." policy, policy will mature as Endowment age 60; between ages 55-60, after five years; payments will continue, however, for lifetime. Limit. Waiver of Premium, $200,000; other clauses, $25,000.
- Dividends. — End of first year and annually thereafter. Options: (a) cash; (b) reduce premiums; (c) accumulate at not less than 3% (or 3½%) with withdrawal any time; (d) purchase non-forfeitable participating paid-up additions. Dividend accumulations will be applied automatically to pay premiums. (a) is automatic.
- Double Indemnity. — For extra premium policy will provide, prior to age 60, for payment of double face of policy in event of accidental death within 90 days from time of injury. Agreement does not cover death from suicide, disease, war service, aeronautic or submarine operations, physical or mental infirmity, ptomaines, bacterial infection other than as a result of injury, violation of law, bodily injuries from warfare outside Continental U. S. Limit $25,000.
- Extended Insurance. — Automatic after two years (one year if any of dividend accumulations or additions or any premium deposit). Non-par. With cash and loan values.
- Grace. — 31 days, without interest.
- Incontestable. — After one year, except for non-payment of premium.
- Limits. — Ages, 15-65, except Endowments, 12-65 and Term, 20-60. Renewable Term limit $50,000.
- Loans. — After two premiums. Interest 6% in advance. Policy is returned to owner after endorsement of loan thereon.
- Military Service. — No restrictions.
- Non Forfeitable. — See "Cash Values," "Extended Insurance" and "Paid-Up Values". Fractional year's premium increases values proportionately.
- Paid-Up Values. — After two premiums, within 31 days after default. Participating. With cash and loan values. Paid-up values are increased by dividend additions or any premium deposit fund.
- Policy in Effect. — At once, if binding receipt issued and application approved.
- Premium Loans. — May be made automatic after two premiums. Interest 6%. Amount of any premium deposit fund will be automatically applied to pay any premiums due and not otherwise paid.

- Reserve Basis. — See "Cash Values."
- Residence and Travel. — No restrictions.
- Restricted Occupations. — No conditions.

Unless otherwise provided, Trust Fund and commutable values of Installments may be withdrawn by beneficiary. NOTE.—3½% Modified Preliminary Term Reserve (Ill. Std.) adopted April 1, 1912.
Reserve allowed at end of 8th year.

WEST COAST LIFE INSURANCE CO., San Francisco, Cal.

Accelerative Option. — Cash value of dividend additions or accumulations may be used to pay up policy or mature it as endowment.

Beneficiary. — May be made irrevocable.

Cash Values. — After three premiums, within three months after default. American 3½% Modified Preliminary Term (III. Std.) reserve, less a surrender charge, (amount not stated), but practice not to make surrender charge. Payment of cash values may be deferred 90 days.

Change of Plan. — Higher premium form allowed, prior to age 55, by payment of difference in premiums at 6% compound interest. Practice to change to lower premium form.

Disability. — For varying extra premium all but Joint Life policies will provide, prior to age 60, for waiver of premiums and payment of monthly income of $10 per $1,000, beginning first day of month after proof (total disability not obviously permanent regarded as permanent after 3 months' duration) and continuing during lifetime and continued disability: no reduction in insurance. Payments continue after maturity of endowments. For extra premium in proportion, an income greater than $10 a month will be granted, the maximum amount decreasing from $20 on a policy of $1,000 to $10 per $1,000 on a policy of $10,000. After age 60, premiums waived and charged against policy without interest. Does not cover war service. Limit, $25,000.

Dividends. — End of first year and annually thereafter. First conditional upon payment of second premium. Options: (a) cash; (b) reduce premiums; (c) accumulate at not less than 3½% withdrawable on any anniversary; (d) purchase participating, paid-up additions, which may be surrendered at any time, not later than three months after default. (d) is automatic option.

Double Indemnity. — For extra premium of $1.75 per $1,000 (Preferred Risks) policy will provide as long as extra annual premium is paid and prior to age 70 for payment of double face in event of accidental death or accidental dismemberment (loss of two members of body) within 90 days from time of injury. Agreement does not cover death or dismemberment from suicide, disease, ptomaines, aeronautics, submarine service, manufacturing or handling highly explosives, war service, intoxicants or narcotics. Agreement may be cancelled by company. In event of change to more hazardous occupation only proportionate part of indemnity paid as extra premium would cover. Extra indemnity paid in monthly income of 240 months. Limit $15,000.

Extended Insurance. — Automatic after three years. Non-par. Without cash and loan values. Exchangeable for paid-up insurance within three months.

Grace. — 31 days, without interest.

Incontestable. — After one year, except for non-payment of premium or service in time of war within 5 years.

Limits. — Ages, Life and Endowments, 10-65; Term and other policies 20-60. No fixed amount; reinsures over $10,000; accepts reinsurance; minimum policy $500.

EXPLANATION OF MISCELLANEOUS TABLES.

By dividing the present value of a life annuity of $1.00 at the attained age of the beneficiary under different tables of mortality and different rates of interest into any given amount the age can learn the annual life annuity which such given amount under such conditions will purchase. Example:—Under the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at 3 per cent show the attained age of the prospective annuitant be 65, the present value of a life annuity at such age and conditions is $9.50, therefore $1,000 will purchase a life annuity of $105.26.

FEW EXPLANATIONS OF THE MATHEMATICAL CONSTRUCTION OF THE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE 3 PER CENT RESERVES.

The value of a life annuity is the sum of the present values of the first and all future annuities. To find the present value of an annuity of $1.00 divide the number living at each succeeding year of age by the number living at age of commencement and multiply each quotient by the present value of $1.00 discounted for the proper number of years at the required per cent of interest and add the results together.

Table I, shows the arithmetical process of finding the present value of an annuity of $1.00 at age 32 upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with 3 per cent interest. The result is $20.64. The totals in column F show the present value of a temporary annuity for 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40 years. On another page will be found the present value of an annuity at all ages from 20 to 60.

The net single premium on Whole Life Policies is the aggregate of the present values of all the future yearly costs of insurance. To find the net single premium on a Whole Life Policy for $1.00 divide the number dying each succeeding year by the number living at age of commencement and multiply each quotient by the present value of $1.00 discounted for the proper number of years at the required per cent of interest and add the results together.

Table II, shows the arithmetical process of finding the net single premium on a Whole Life Policy of $1.00 issued at age 32 upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with 3 per cent interest. The result is $.39873650 or $398.73 for each $1000. The totals in column F show the net single premium for temporary insurance of $1.00 for 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40-year terms.

The net annual premium is that sum which invested annually will with interest meet all the obligations of the policy. To find the net annual premium of a Whole Life Policy divide the net single premium by the present value of an annuity of $1.00. Example: $$398.73 + $20.64 = $19.318$ or nearest even amount $19.32.

To find the net annual premium of term insurance for $1.00 divide the net single premium for the temporary period by the present value of an annuity of $1.00 for the same period. Example:

Term	Net Single Premium for Term.	Present Value of an Annuity of $1.00 for Term.	Net Annual Premium of $1.00 for Term.
5 year	.039758	+ 4.63797	= .008572	or nearest even amount $8.57 per $1000
10 "	.075347	+ 8.45989	= .008906	8.91 " "
15 "	.108332	+ 11.59550	= .009342	9.34 " "
20 "	.140851	+ 14.14579	= .009957	9.96 " "
25 "	.175391	+ 16.18917	= .010833	10.83 " "
30 "	.213609	+ 17.78219	= .0120102	12.01 " "
35 "	.255952	+ 18.96789	= .013494	13.49 " "

To find the net annual premium of limited payment insurance divide the single premium by the present value of a temporary annuity for the required period. Examples:

Limited Pay- ment Life.	Net Single Premium Whole Life.	Present Value of Annuity of $1.00 for term.	Net Annual Premium.
5 year	$398.73 +	4.63797 =	$85.97 per $1000
10 year	398.73 +	8.45989 =	47.13 " "
15 "	398.73 +	11.59550 =	34.39 " "
20 "	398.73 +	14.14579 =	28.19 " "

Pure Endowments provide merely for the payment of certified sums providing the person survives a certain period.

To find the net single premium of a pure endowment for $1.00 divide the number surviving at the end of the period by those living at the commencement of the period and multiply by the present value of $1.00 discounted. Example.

Number living at age	Number living at age	Present value of $1.00 due 5 yrs. hence.	Net single premium pure endowment.
37.	32.
80353 +	84000 X	.862609 =	.825157 or in nearest even amount $825.16 per $1000.

For the net single premiums of pure endowments for $1.00 for other terms see Table II column E for number of years in column G.

To find the net single premium of Endowment Insurance for $1.00 add together the net single premium for temporary insurance and the net single premium for pure endowments, and to find the net annual premiums divide the result by the present value of a temporary annuity of $1.00 for the required period. Examples:

Endow- ments.	Net Single premium temporary insurance.	Net Single premium pure endow- ments.	Net Single premium of an endowment insurance	Present Value of an annuity of $1.00	Net annual premium.	per $1000
10 Year	.075347	+ .678250	= .753597	+ 8.45989	= .08907	or $89.07
15 Year	.108332	+ .553965	= .662297	+ 11.59550	= .05711	or $57.11
20 Year	.140851	+ .447165	= .588017	+ 14.14579	= .04156	or $41.56
25 Year	.175391	+ .353110	= .528501	+ 16.18917	= .03264	or $32.64
30 Year	.213609	+ .268492	= .482102	+ 17.78219	= .02711	or $27.11
35 Year	.255952	+ .191614	= .447566	+ 18.96789	= .02350	or $23.50

The terminal or net reserve is a sum which together with future premiums will, according to the given table of mortality and the given rate of interest amount to sufficient to pay all policy claims as they fall due. The reserve at the end of each year is the difference between the net single premium for the sum insured at the age of valuation and the present value of all future net annual premiums. To find the terminal or net reserve multiply the net annual premium at age of entry by the present value of an annuity of $1.00 at age of valuation and deduct the result from the net single premium at age of valuation. Example:

Net annual premium age 32 Ordinary Life.	Present value of an annuity of $1.00 age 52.	Net single premium age 52.	Terminal value end of 20 years age 32 at entry.
$19.32 X	$14.53 =	$280.71	$576.71 — $280.71 = $296.00

ARE YOU FULLY INSURED

The question—For what amount should men insure their lives in order that their families and estates may suffer no loss in case of their premature death? needs answer if we are to persuade men to do their full duty.

The following table throws light on the question. It gives the expectation of life at each age from 25 to 60 at the present insurable value of a life producing an income of $1,000 per annum over personal expenses. If the net income is less or more than $1,000, the insurable value is a simple problem in proportion.

The insurable values given in the following table are computed on assumption that money will earn 4% interest.

Dividends: Year begins April 1. Dividends were suspended from April 1, 1919, to April 1, 1920, owing to influenza epidemic. New schedule adopted for year beginning April 1, 1920, slightly lower than 1918 schedule, which is still being used. An extra dividend of $2.50 for each 5 years policy has been in force paid in 1924. Postmortem dividends not paid.

Dividend Formula: On Life and Endowment Policies.

On Single Life Policies the dividends are made up of three factors:

First: Mortality Saving, which commences with 33% of the tabular cost at age 20 and grades down to a constant of 10% of the tabular cost from age 65 onwards.

Second: Interest Saving, which is $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ of the initial reserve.

Third: Expense Saving. This factor from the first to the ninth years, inclusive, is the loading less 13% of the gross premiums and constant of $1.75. From the tenth to the twenty-fifth years the percentage of the gross premium is graded, the constant remaining unaltered.

On Joint Policies the mortality saving is made up of the same percentages as those upon single lives, except that the joint equal ages are substituted for the single ages. For example: A factor applying to the equal ages 20 and 20 is the same as that for a single life age 20. The interest factor is the same as that for single lives.

The percentage used for the expense saving are the same as the single life percentages, but the constant is $2.50. A few minor adjustments were made at the younger ages in order to make the dividends continually increase.

Term policies:

The dividend is made up of one factor, a return of a percentage of the loading. Accordingly, on Convertible Term Policies 45% of the loading is returned the first year, which percentage constantly increases: 1% until 54% of the loading is returned at the end of the tenth year.

On the Ten-Year Renewable plan 48% of the loading is returned the first year, while a constant addition of .75% is made each year until 54.75% of the loading is returned at the end of the tenth year.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: All new privileges extended to old policies and restrictions in old policies canceled back to November 1, 1911, since 1915, excepting disability and double indemnity clauses which are granted to newly examined male risks and self-supporting women.

Business in Force: American $3\frac{1}{2}\%$. Monthly Income: Commuted values, 5 years certain, \$552; 10 years \$1,017; 20 years, \$1,737.

Dividends: Year begins June 1. 1919 schedule was 98.5% of 1918. Further reduction for 1920 beginning June 1, which schedule continued for 1921, 1922, 1923, and 1924. Post-mortem dividend paid on policies issued after Oct. 1, 1913; loading returned in full interest and mortality returns pro-rated.

Dividend Formula: Premium paying policies: Premium refunds are derived from three sources:

1. Savings in mortality, on basis of tabular cost of insurance with adjustment for plan and age.
2. Surplus interest, according to mean reserve.
3. Savings in expenses, obtained by crediting the policy with the full loading and charging its share of expenses.

Paid-up Policies: As no premiums are payable under such contracts, the dividends consist only of the return on excess interest earnings.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: It is the practice of the company to make retroactive any new privileges which may reasonably be extended to old policy-holders without placing an unwarranted charge on the general funds of the company or causing an injustice to other policy-holders. For instance, the following principles have been made retroactive; Days of grace without interest; conditions of reinstatement; settlement options; excess interest on funds left with the company; policy loans; dividend options; automatic premium loans; 60 days' extension of premium payment upon written request. The disability provision now incorporated in new policies without an increase in the premiums previously charged may be attached to old policies in the form of a rider with extra premium of $0.25 per $1,000. Disability income and double indemnity riders with small extra premium may be attached to old policies upon evidence of insurability. Restrictions on travel, military service, etc., are removed.

Health and Accident: Premium $70 annually; provides accidental death benefit of $7,500; weekly sickness of $25 for 52 weeks, or for life in event of accidental disability. Also issues policy paying triple for street accidents.

Business in Force: Full Level Premium Actuaries 4% to 1901; since American 3½%. Non-participating, $453,439,138; Annual Dividend, $90,360,634. Life, $217,541,104; Endowment, $79,544,583; Term and other policies, $153,258,413; Group, $92,750,802; Dividend Additions, $704,871.

Leading Policies in order of their popularity: Endowment at 75. Ordinary Life; Endowment at 65; 20 Payment Life; Endowment at 70; 4 Year Initial Term; 10 Year Term; 2 Year Term; 20 Payment Endowment, 75; Endowment, 60.

Sub-Standard Risks: Beginning Nov. 1, 1923, company does general sub-standard business, charging extra non-participating premiums.

Monthly Income: $10 for 20 years; commuted value, $1,814; 10 years, $1,040; 5 years, $558.

Dividends: The company increased its dividend scale through the interest factor each year for the years 1917, 1918 and 1919, and was practically the only Company to increase its scale in 1919. In 1920 the Company decreased its dividend scale about 15% below the scale for the preceding year, partly because of the heavy Influenza and War losses. At the same time the 1920 scale did include an increase in the interest factor from 4.4% to 4.5%, which again was in accordance with the earnings from that source. The 1920 scale was continued in the years 1921 and 1922. In 1923 an increase in scale was adopted, resulting in a distribution of nearly 30% over the amount of the scale for the preceding year, and the 1924 scale similarly represents an increase of about 9% over the 1923 scale. As a result of these changes the 1924 scale represents an increase of approximately 20% over the 1919 basis—which latter basis was upon a scale higher than any preceding scale since 1903. The increase is by no means a uniform percentage by age, plan of insurance and duration, as the modifications have taken account of and are in close conformity with sources of contribution. Post mortem dividends paid.

Dividend Formula: On premium paying policies based on the Actuaries' Table and 4% interest, the loading on the premium less 5½% of such premium increased by 7/10 of 1% of the initial reserve and $3.00 per $1,000 of the terminal amount at risk.

On premium-paying policies based on the American Table of Mortality and 3% interest, the amount represented by summing the following three factors:

1st. Premium Factor.

(a) On Annual Life Policies, the loading on the premium less 11.0% of such premium.

(b) On Annual Endowment Policies, the loading on the premium less an expense charge of 10.5% of such premium for endowments maturing in 55 years or more, such expense charge to be reduced by one-tenth of 1% for each year, reduction in duration at time of issue up to and including duration 45; after duration 45 the expense charge to be reduced 1/20 of 1% for each year, reduction in duration of policy at time of issue.

(c) On Limited Payment Life and Endowment Policies, the expense charge is to be a smaller percentage of the premium than the expense charge on corresponding annual premium policies by the following:

30 Payment Policies, 0%

25 Payment Policies, $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1%

20 Payment Policies, $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1%

15 Payment Policies, $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1%

10 Payment Policies, 1%

5 Payment Policies, $1\frac{1}{4}$ %

(d) On Participating Premium Paying Term Policies, the loading on the premium less 22% of such premium.

2nd Interest Factor. 1.7% of the initial reserve.

3rd Mortality Factor.

(a) On Annual and Limited Premium Life and Endowment Policies, $1.75 per $1,000 of the terminal amount at risk.

(b) On Participating Premium Paying Term policies, $1.50 per $1,000 of the terminal amount at risk.

On single premium and participating paid-up policies classified as 4% policies, 7/10 of 1% of the initial reserve and $3.00 per $1,000 of the terminal amount at risk less an expense charge of fifty cents per $1,000 insured.

On single premium and participating paid-up life and endowment policies classified as 3% policies, 1.7% of the initial reserve and $1.75 per $1,000 of the terminal amount at risk less an expense charge of fifty cents per $1,000 insured.

On participating paid-up term policies 1.7% of the initial reserve.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: In most cases the company is retroactive. This practice was adopted about 1908, when a new form was adopted to conform with new changes in the law, and applies to all out-standing insurance. Grace in the payment of premiums without interest has been extended to all old policy holders; the disability clause may be attached to all old policies. The company has not strengthened its reserve, having gone on 3% basis for insurance in 1882. Present reinstatement and settlement option privileges are granted to old policy-holders. Statement by the Company: "This company has tried to look at the question extending to old members privileges which are contained in contracts now being issued from the standpoint of the existing membership as a whole, attempting to determine what practice will be for the best interest of the entire membership, having chief regard for the continuing members in contrast to the discontinuing members. It has to be borne in mind in considering the equities between different policy-holders the fact that all the provisions of policies of new insurance are not necessarily in the direction of increased liberality. For example, if 5% interest were guaranteed of policy loans and the company in a later policy form considered that 6% would be for the best interest of the policy-holders, it would be impossible to make this 6% retroactive. It might very well happen that in the future certain other safeguards would be placed in policies in order to protect the policyholders as a whole. Bearing in mind these conditions, and placing questions of the security of the contracts of existing members above all other considerations and considering the desirability of making the cost of the insurance protection to the existing members as low as possible, this company came to the practice of annual cash values with small surrender charges reluctantly. When required to adopt this new departure, as the result of legislative action, we adopt it as agains our better judgment. We then concluded, and we think now it was a wise conclusion, that should such privilege be extended to the great volume of outstanding insurance with its large reserves, under certain conditions it might result in a demand upon the company, particularly during periods of financial depression, which might seriously disturb the amount of insurance in force, and necessitate the sale of securities at a substantial loss to the company. These results would seem to operate against the paramount objects which we have in view, and, therefore, our present annual cash surrender values have not been made retroactive." The following additional provisions have been made retroactive: Post-mortem dividend, extended insurance, settlement option, change of plan, reinstatement. In 1921 the more liberal provisions of the company's new disability and double indemnity agreements were made retroactive.

Business in Force: Changed reserve basis from 4% to 3% in 1882 so that the company has operated over a long period maintaining reserves as at present. The company has always been purely mutual legal reserve, and has issued annual dividend policies continuously, the non-participating in force is very small in proportion to its total business. American 3% Full Level Premium. Non-participating, $1,139,889; Annual Dividend, $491,808,962; Post-mortem Dividend, $155,695. Monthly Income: $10 for 240 months; commuted value, $1,838.88. 120 months, $1,054.32; 60 months, $566.04.

Dividends: Dividend year begins Jan. 1. Slight reduction made in 1919 scale and further reduction made in 1920 scale. 1921 same as 1920. Increased each year during 1922, 1923 and 1924. Post-mortem dividend paid for fractional part of year.

Dividend Formula: The following is the rule for the computation of annual dividends payable in 1924.

From the ordinary premium due in 1923, taken on the annual basis deduct an expense charge beginning at 14% of the mean between the gross annual premium and the net ordinary life annual premium at the same age for the first policy year. The expense charge decreases by constant differences of .4% of the above mean premium each year for 15 years, then by .3% for the next 10 years, and then by .2% for the next 5 years, remaining uniform at 4% for the 31st and each year thereafter, but ceasing in any event when the policy becomes paid-up. The expense charge is, however, in no case to exceed the sum of the loading included in the office premium and the mortality profit as computed below. Add the balance of the premium to the terminal reserve in 1923 and accumulate the sum at 4.7% for one year. From the total deduct the cost of insurance according to the American Experience Table and the terminal reserve at the anniversary in 1924.

To the above is to be added a mortality factor equal to 40% of the cost of insurance where the attained age at date of dividend is 35 or less. The percentage for ages above 35 shall decrease by 1% each year for 5 years to 35% at age 40, then by 2% each year for 15 years to 5% at age 56, then by 1% each year for 5 years to nothing at age 60. No addition will be made at ages 60 to 80 inclusive, but thereafter the mortality factor shall be 2% of the cost of insurance, multiplied by the number of years by which the attained age exceeds 80. The sum is the cash dividend for 1924, except that no dividend is to be declared at the end of the first policy year on other than single premium policies.

For the fifth year extra dividend, calculate the first year dividend according to the rule in use for second and subsequent years' dividends during each of the years 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923. Take the average of the four dividends so calculated and apply it as a net single premium on the basis of the American Experience Table, using an accumulation rate of 4.3% for the first two years, 4.5% for the third year, and 4.7% for the last year.

The rate of excess interest for dividends on deposit or on participating settlements of policy proceeds, under which an interest rate of 3% is guaranteed, will be 1.5%, except that on Certificates of Deposit on which interest is payable fractionally the excess interest rate will be 1.4%.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Company states in general that it is the society's policy to make new provisions and benefits retroactive in so far as it can do so consistently under the terms of old contracts. Grace without interest in payment of premiums has been granted to old policyholders. The disability and double indemnity clauses are granted to most policy-holders. The reinstatement privilege is governed by the contract provision. The present settlement options and cash values are granted to old policyholders. Excess interest is paid on all funds left with the company. Dividends may be used to accelerate paid-up and maturity periods of policy. Right of insured to name irrevocable beneficiary is extended to old policies, also right to change plan, and right to continue premiums on paid-up policy to mature it as endowment. Same premium extensions for all. Restrictions are canceled as more liberal conditions are incorporated, except travel and residences on old policies issued at less than free tontine rates.

Business in Force: Full Level Premium Reserve. Actuaries 4% on issues prior to 1901; American 3½% on issues 1898-1906 and Convertible policies 1914 and after; American 3% on issues 1895 to date. Dividend Formula: In the distribution of profits the Company uses an asset share formula involving four factors, viz.: Interest, Mortality, Loading and Withdrawals. For interest a net rate of 6% is assumed. For Mortality it is assumed that 75% of the Om. Select Mortality table applies for all ages less than 36; after age 35 the percentage increases one point for each additional age until a maximum of 100% is attained at age 60. For loading an expense rate of 10% is assumed for all renewal premiums. For first year premiums the expense rate varies for each plan and age. For example, for ages 25 to 51 the rate for Ordinary Life varies from 122% to 88%; for 20 Payment Life from 105% to 84%; and for 20 year endowment from 88% to 80%. The Withdrawal factor is assumed to apply only during the first seven years of the policy, the rates assumed varying with the duration from 18% to 1% for all ages up to 47, after which they decrease slightly.

These profits are set aside annually on all plans and on quinquennial and deferred dividend policies are accumulated to the profit due dates. In the case of annual and quinquennial policies, the profits are graduated without, however, changing the aggregate value. Cash dividends are converted into paid-up insurance or premium reductions by the Hm. $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ table or if retained by the company are accumulated at the net rate of interest earned.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Statement by the company: "Each new privilege is considered separately. There is no general rule that all new privileges should be made retroactive. Reinstatement, grace in payment of premiums and no interest charge during the days of grace applies in the case of all policies. Disability may be issued on all policies issued since Jan. 1, 1907; double indemnity on all issued since March, 1920. The full reserve is granted as a cash value on all life and endowment policies issued prior to Jan. 1, 1907.

"The company has not increased the reserve basis on any particular class of policies since they were issued. The settlement and dividend options contained in present policies will be made a feature, upon request, of any policy issued by the company except a policy guaranteeing the payment of the sum insured in specified installments. The present settlement options granted and all options participate in excess interest earned. Surrender charge reduced and the resulting larger cash value adopted in 1923 apply to all 3% policies. No other features of the present policies have been made generally retroactive. If any particular feature is requested it is taken into consideration individually. It is not the practice of the company to cancel restrictions in its old policies except so far as privileges are made retroactive, and these have been considered above."

Grace in payment of premiums, without interest, has been granted to old policyholders whose policies have no such provision.

Disability and Double Indemnity may be added. New provisions in regard to settlement options and change of plan are granted to old policyholders.

Non-forfeiture values to old policyholders have been increased from time to time, and such values have been granted on policies not containing any such provision.

Applications for reinstatements have always been considered, regardless of whether the policy contains this privilege or not.

The present settlement option will be granted to old policyholders.

Dividend Formula: Dividends composed of two elements, the portion of the loading remaining after deduction of expenses, and excess interest earnings. The profits from lapsed and surrendered policies together with the mortality gains and other incidental profits, are applied toward the gross expense of the company.

Retroactive Principles: Newer privileges extended in some matters if they can be applied to the policies. Practice adopted some time back and applied if adaptable to all policies. Grace in the payment of premiums extended to all policyholders regardless of date of issue, and no interest rate is charged, same as under present policies. Disability and Double Indemnity clause may be incorporated in policies not containing the same, issued on and after the date on which company was authorized to write this form of policy in the year 1921. The insured, however, is required to furnish company with a satisfactory examination at his own expense, before company will incorporate the same, and the extra rate is calculated at the insured's attained age and present restrictions as to occupation, etc., would also apply. There has been no change in reserve on old policies. Present reinstatement privileges are available to old policyholders according to the terms of the contract. The payment of proceeds of policies, installments, certain and continuous and the granting of annuities are extended to old policyholders. An old policyholder may have the privilege of changing the beneficiary in his policy, provided the original policy is a "self" policy and no assignment of the policy exists outside of a collateral assignment for loan made by the company. Privilege of change of plan applies on all old policies. Certain restriction in regard to residence and travel in peace time without a permit on old policies are now liberalized by the practice of the company.

Dividends: Year begins June 1. Same scale for 1924 as has been in effect since adopted for 1917. Post-mortem dividends paid; full annual dividend for current policy year.

Dividend Formula: Premium-Paying Policies—(a) In the case of policies issued prior to 1908 (Actuaries' 4% and Am. $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ business) the expense charge is 15% of the premium. This expense charge is deducted from the loading and balance increased by 4% interest. On issues of 1908-1923, inclusive (Am. 3% business) the expense charge in the case of whole life and endowment policies is $52\frac{1}{2}\%$ of the loading; the expense charge in the case of Term policies is 70% of the loading.

(b) The mortality saving is taken as 25% of the tabular cost of insurance in the case of all whole life and endowment policies issued prior to 1908; 20% in the case of Term policies issued prior to 1908 (Actuaries 4% business), and 15% in the case of term policies issued from 1901-1907, inclusive. On issues of 1908-1923 the mortality saving is taken at $1.50 per $1,000 at risk in the case of life and endowment policies and $1.00 per $1,000 at risk in the case of Term policies, and this mortality saving is the second element of the dividend.

(c) The third element of the dividend is surplus interest on the initial reserve. On the Actuaries 4% business, $\frac{3}{4}\%$ of the reserve is returned; on the American $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ business, $1\frac{1}{4}\%$, and on the American 3% business, 2%.

Paid-Up Policies—The Actuaries 4% business receives as a dividend $\frac{1}{2}\%$ of the initial reserve and 25% of the tabular cost of insurance; the American $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ receives 1% of the initial reserve and 25% of the tabular cost of insurance; and the American 3% business receives $1\frac{1}{4}\%$ of the initial reserve and \$1.50 per \$1,000 at risk; except paid-up term where the percentage are one-half and 20% respectively for 4% business; 1% and 15% for the $3\frac{1}{2}\%$; 3% receives $1\frac{3}{4}\%$ of initial reserve and \$1.00 per \$1,000 at risk.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Company has granted new privileges since 1908 on all policies in force. Grace in payment of premiums has been granted to all old policies without interest charge. Further liberal provisions are disability benefits, dividend options, participation of paid-up additions, post-mortem dividend, automatic premium loan, automatic paid-up or extended insurance upon request, right to continue premiums on limited payment life to mature policy at earliest date. Surrender charge has been decreased in old policies. The present reinstatement, change of plan, and settlement option provisions are available to old policyholders. Excess interest is paid on all funds left with the company. Disability clause may be issued to old policyholders. The company has cancelled restrictions in all old policies as the more liberal conditions were incorporated in its new contracts.

Dividends: Year begins May 1. 1923 dividends were payable on Ordinary Whole Life Policies of issue from May 1, 1909, to December 31, 1921. Under these Whole Life policies a special dividend of $10 per thousand was payable in 1923 on issues of 1909 to 1913 inclusive, and a special dividend of $5 per thousand on issues of 1914 to 1918 inclusive.

On Ordinary policies other than Whole Life, dividends for 1923 were payable on issues of May 1, 1892, to December 31, 1920. On Intermediate policies dividends were payable from July 1, 1896, to December 31, 1912 (except Whole Life and Life and Annuity policies issued in 1912), and on issues from May 1, 1916, to December 31, 1920. Dividend Formula: Annual dividends on premium-paying policies consisted of the following two parts: (1) A refund to the insured of part of the premium paid one year earlier, which the company has been able to save and during the policy year, and (2) the excess interest earned on the reserve. In the case of paid-up policies the annual dividends consist solely of part of the excess interest earned on the reserve.

The refund of excess premium was the difference, adjusted to provide for the contingency reserve between the annual premium payable and the annual premium required according to the company's own mortality experience.

The rate of interest used in the dividend calculations is 4.5%, so that the excess rate was 0.5% for 4% reserve policies, and 1% for 3½% reserve policies.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Policyholders are granted all practical concessions. The following provisions have been applied to old as well as new policies irrespective of contract: Days of grace, disability waiver of premium but not annuity, dividend options, dividends on paid-up additions, settlement options, reinstatement, restrictions in old policies as to military and naval service, suicide, occupations, residence and travel are generally canceled as new and more liberal provisions are adopted.

Dividend Formula: (1) Net rate of interest earned is 5% , giving $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ excess interest.

(2) Profit from mortality is taken as a percentage of the tabular mortality cost, the percentage varying from 33 at the younger ages to 8 at the higher ages, except on term policies where the percentage is taken as 55% of the rate on other policies.

(3) Profit from loading is the amount of loading on the premium less a charge for expenses taken as a percentage of the gross premium and a constant per $1,000 of business in force.

The sum of the profit from these three sources gives the amount of dividend.

Surplus contributions are calculated each year by plans and ages on the method described above. These annual contributions are allotted where the policies provide for annual participation. Dividend Formula: Actual rate of interest earned on initial reserves, 4.8% net on premium-paying policies and 4.7% on paid-up policies.

Expense charged against premium-paying policies, 11% of the contract premium, the difference between the loading and the expense charge thus obtained to be improved by one year's interest at the rate of 4.8%. Retroactive Principles in Practice: The company is retroactive on all privileges. Its old policies back to 1845 are made as liberal as its new without any exception. New surrender values (1922) apply to all 3% policies, excepting that 3% policies issued prior to 1908 cannot be altered with reference to extended term without consent of all parties. Retroactive Principles in Practice: Privileges contained in new policies are in general made retroactive so far as policy contracts permit. The period of grace is extended to all policies without interest. Disability and double indemnity clauses can be incorporated on evidence of insurability for such clauses, in policies issued since January 1, 1907. Present non-forfeiture values have been extended to all policies issued since January 1, 1907, since which time the present reserve basis, and, for the most important forms of policies, the present premium rates, have been in effect. Policies issued before January 1, 1907 are on different premium rates and reserve basis and the present values, founded on the present reserve basis, could not be applied to them. Modes of Settlement available on present policies have been extended to all policies. Automatic non-forfeiture values have been extended to all policies; for policies issued before January 1, 1907 the automatic value is paid-up insurance; for policies issued since January 1, 1907, it is extended insurance. Retroactive Principles in Practice: Statement by the company: "It has always been the practice of this company when policy conditions were liberalized to give old policyholders the benefits of such liberalizations when it could be done without conflict with the contracted interests of any class of business or with the company's business as a whole, as for example: We extended to old policyholders the benefits of the removal of all restrictions on residence or travel or occupation; of incontestability, first after two years and later after one year from date of issue, provided the required premiums had been paid; the privilege of selection of either cash, paid-up or extended insurance settlement; a grace for the premium payments of 31 days without interest; a guarantee of reinstatement at any time on proof of insurability and readjustment of any liens; and installment settlement options. We have not, however, made increase in non-forfeiture values through change from 4% to 3% basis retroactive, as we do not consider that either reasonable or equitable." Disability clause, some dividend options, participating paid-up additions, dividend accumulations to pay premiums, application of accumulated dividends to hasten maturity, automatic paid-up or extended insurance upon request, change of plan, continuation of premiums on paid-up policies to mature them as endowments, have also been made retroactive.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Statement by the company: "In regard to the practice of this company the terms and conditions of its policies as written are, in general, adhered to, with the exception that in the case of old line policies originally based upon American 6% reserve tables, this company sets aside and maintains reserves on the Actuaries' or Combined Experienced Table of Mortality with interest at 4%, and in computing surrender values under such policies bases such values upon the Actuaries' or Combined Experience 4% table, thus arriving at somewhat higher values than if the values were computed based on the old 6% American table. Practically all of the old 6% policies are policies which contained no provision by their terms for cash surrender value. This company also extends the privilege of one month (not less than 30 days) grace for the payment of premiums under all old policies, whether so provided in the policy or not. The only policies on which the reserve has been strengthened as set forth above are non-participating, and as above explained this company grants surrender values based upon the higher reserves under these old policies. Our disability clause will be attached to old policies in the same form as attached to present policies, subject to satisfactory evidence of insurability of the policyholder. Installment options will also be granted, on request of the insured, to old policyholders whose policies do not contain the installment privileges of modern policies, on the same terms as provided in policies at present being issued. Reinstatement privileges are governed by policy provisions, or if no provision in the policy, are extended to old policyholders on the same terms as provided in present policies, namely, furnishing satisfactory evidence of good health and paying delinquent premiums with interest, providing the policy has not been surrendered and canceled." Settlement options also made retroactive.

Dividends: Year begins Jan. 1. Same scale for 1917, 1918 and 1919. New scale in 1920, with the dividends in the aggregate remaining about the same. In 1921 same scale as 1920, with slight modification at the older ages. Same schedule for 1922 and 1923. Aggregate increase in 1924 of about 17%. Full post-mortem dividend paid with claim under annual dividend policies.

Dividend Formula: Dividends calculated according to the Contribution Formula, of which the factors are as follows: Expense charge $13\frac{1}{2}\%$ (adjusted according to plan); mortality gain, 50% to 17% excess for term policies, $21\frac{1}{2}\%$ to 10%; surplus interest based on 4.8%.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: It has always been the practice of the company to extend the newer privileges to old policies in so far as practicable. All old policies are granted grace in payment of premiums without interest. Disability clause may be attached to old policies that could have had the clause at issue. The company has not changed its reserve basis under old policies. Present reinstatement and settlement privileges are available to all old policyholders. Excess interest is paid under settlement options. Increased loan, cash paid-up and extended term insurance values have been extended to old policies. Restrictions in old policies have been canceled as newer policies were liberalized. Restrictions as to residence, travel and occupation have been removed and dividends are not contingent upon payment of next year's premium under old or new policies.

An extra 5% dividend on all but the first, declared in addition to the 1922 scale was declared for 1923 and 1924. Post-Mortem dividends paid equal to proportion of divisible surplus accrued.

Dividend Formula: Annual Dividends: Profits are derived from the following sources: (1) Interest earned in excess of that required for the maintenance of reserves. The effective rate employed is 5%, producing an excess of 1%, 1½%, or 2%, respectively, accordingly to the basis of valuation employed. (2) Saving from loading. (3) Saving from mortality based upon the difference between the expected mortality provided in the net premium and the actual experience. Deferred Dividends: The same factors are employed as are used with Annual Dividend calculations, except that the added factor of lapse is introduced.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Statement by the company: "While this company would be very glad to formulate a statement regarding its general policy as to retroactive principles, we feel satisfied that if not absolutely impossible, it is at any rate most impracticable to do so. The company does give to its old policyholders certain benefits included in its subsequently issued contracts, as well as give to its old policyholders the benefit of more liberal procedure than that contemplated or provided for at the time their policies were taken out. These benefits and provisions are, however, so subject to necessary modifications that to resolve the issue into anything like compact shape is not feasible. In other words, to recite the company's general rules and regulations surrounding retroactive principles would call for a most voluminous statement. The restrictive provisions relating to occupation, travel and intemperance placed in the earlier contracts of the company almost invariably were operative for a limited time following the date of the policy's issue. It is, therefore, a fact that with almost no exception all of the company's contracts are unrestricted except in the event of the insured engaging in military or naval service in time of war without a permit." Grace in payment of premiums is allowed on all policies without interest charge. Disability clause is not granted on old policies. Where the company has strengthened reserves on old policies, policyholders are given benefit in increased dividends but not in larger nonforfeiture values. Present reinstatement and settlement option privileges are available to old policyholders. Excess interest is paid on all old policies.

Health and Accident: Company specializes on commercial non-cancelable policies and issues complete line in accident department. Also issues accident and sickness disability benefits in connection with life and endowment contracts, premium being $1.75 per $1,000 for accident and $4.00 per $20 unit of monthly benefit for sickness (Class A risks). Provides monthly payments beginning immediately if issued with medical examination or after 15 days if issued without and continuing during one year or lifetime and continued disability, according to form of policy. Rates based on a monthly unit of $20.00. See "Double Indemnity" on policy analysis page.

Dividends: Year begins May 1. Same dividend scale used in 1919 as in 1918; 1920 dividends reduced on policies issued prior to May 1, 1919, beginning with dividend year May 1, 1920. Normal distribution in 1921. Age adjusted. 1921 scale continued for 1922. Increase in 1923 and in 1924. Post-mortem dividend paid.

Dividend Formula (contribution method is used): On premium paying policies, the interest assumption is 4.75%, which give a margin of 1.75% excess interest.

The mortality savings are graded according to year of issue and age.

A percentage of the gross premium is taken out for expenses and the difference between the loading and the expense charge thus obtained is improved by one year's interest at the rate of 4.75%.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Newer privileges are granted on the older policies whenever they can be extended without injury to the membership as a whole. Grace in payment of premiums is granted on all policies without interest charge. Disability clause may be attached to all policies issued since the date of its adoption. Where company has strengthened the reserve on its old policies the policyholders are given the benefit in increased dividends and certain classes of policies have had values increased over contract provisions. Present reinstatement privileges, change of plans and dividend options are available to old policyholders and installment options are granted upon request. Excess interest is paid on fund left with the company. Restrictions are canceled in all policies when such cancellation seems to benefit the entire membership. All old policies have been made free from restrictions as to travel, residence and occupation without limit.

Monthly Income: $10 for 5 years; commuted value, $557; 10 years $1,027; 20 years, $1,754.

Dividends: Year begins Jan. 1. Schedule reduced 20% in 1919. discontinued annual dividends in 1920 on account of influenza losses, except in case of maturing endowments and policies issued prior to Aug. 1, 1907. New schedule in 1921; net cost as low as under old dividend schedule. Increase in 1922. 1923 scale same as 1922 with the addition of 25% special dividend. 1924 same as 1922 with addition of one-quarter of 1% of initial reserve plus $0.75 per $1,000 of insurance. Post-mortem dividend paid. Increased dividends to industrial policies in 1923.

Dividend Formula: For each kind of policy a calculation is made to ascertain the annual and accumulated earnings in accordance with the company's experience. For this purpose the sums insured in force at the beginning of the calendar year are sub-divided into groups according to year of issue and kind of policy, and the corresponding reserves and accrued surplus of each group are tabulated. Estimates are then made of the expected income from premiums and interest, and the outgo for claims, surrenders, dividends and first-year and renewal expenses, and the estimated total of each of these items is compared with the actual figures, and a ratio derived for correction of the estimate. The estimated reserves at the end of the year, similarly corrected to agree in the aggregate with the actual reserves, are deducted from the funds at the end of the year, obtained by adding income to the funds at the beginning of the year and deducting outgo. The surplus so obtained in each group is divided by the estimated sums insured in force at the end of the year, also corrected to agree in the aggregate with the actual total, the accumulated surplus per $1,000 for each year of duration and kind being thus obtained, and by comparison with the corresponding figures for the beginning of the year, the earnings of the year are ascertained.

The surplus so determined represents the earnings at the effective age for the group in question. Calculations are then made of a hypothetical group of 1,000 policies for $1,000 each, for each of the entry ages, 20, 30, 40, 50 and 60, showing the progress of the fund formed by taking account of income and outgo, and the resulting surplus. Rates of interest, mortality, surrender and expense are derived from the company's experience, and the available dividends so disclosed are made to correspond at the effective age for each group with those obtained as described above. Dividends for intermediate ages are derived by interpolation.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: It is the practice of the company to grant newer privileges to all old policies whenever practicable. Grace in payment of premiums without interest is allowed on all issues. The disability clause without additional premium is granted to all old policies. The present settlement options are given to old policyholders. Double indemnity and income disability issued on old policies. Excess interest is paid on all funds left with the company. Restrictions are canceled on all old policies as more liberal privileges are incorporated.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Statement by the company: "The legal reserve policies issued by this company prior to Jan. 1, 1907, were in most respects very liberal. They provided for days of grace, reinstatement privilege, change of beneficiary, liberal loan and surrender values and annual installment benefits in case of death. In lieu of such annual installments we will gladly make semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. Our present policies provide that all stipulated payments under the limited installment or continuous installment option shall be increased by annual dividends. We are now considering the advisability of making this feature retroactive and same applies to the unpaid amounts due in the future on supplementary contracts not involving life contingencies. Our present contracts provide for a period of 31 days of grace in paying any premiums after the first and without interest charge. This benefit has been extended to holders of old policies. Our disability clause may be attached to old policies upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. All of our legal reserve policies issued prior to Jan. 1, 1917, are valued upon the full level premium basis and the surrender values in the old contracts are fully as liberal (in most cases more so) as in our present policies. Most policies issued between 1900 and 1906, inclusive, are free from condition as to residence, travel and occupation except as to military or naval service in time of war. From January 1, 1907, to October, 1916, policies absolutely free from all conditions as to residence, travel and occupation."

Retroactive Principles in Practice: As far as company deems it advisable old policyholders are granted privileges incorporated in later policies. Grace in payment of premiums is granted to all old policyholders without extra charge. Disability clause may be attached to all old policies. Actuaries' 4% business placed on 3½% reserve basis. Policies of 1908 issue are granted non-forfeiture values of 1909 issue. Present reinstatement, change of plan, and settlement option provisions are extended to all old policyholders. Monthly Income: $10 for 240 months; commuted value, $1,730.56.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: It would be practically impossible to recite a complete statement as to retroactive practices. Under the company's contracts premium changes and changes in surrender values are practically never retroactive, but it is usually customary to make retroactive such changes in policy practices as will render greater service to the insured. For example, grace in payment of premiums without interest is extended to all policyholders irrespective of contract terms. The company voluntarily adds settlement options under old endowment policies now contained in newer contracts. certain features of permanent total disability benefits have been extended to the older forms of disability coverage.

Accident and Health: Premium $14.00, ages 18-50 (Select and Preferred Risks); provides weekly sickness benefits of $5.00 for 52 weeks; for lifetime in event of total disability by accidental injury; accidental death benefit is $1,500. Pro-rata post-mortem paid on present issues.

Dividend Formula: (Series A, policies issued prior to Jan. 1, 1902, B, policies issued between Jan. 1, 1902, and Dec. 31, 1906, inclusive; C, policies issued between Jan. 1, 1907 and Dec. 31, 1910, inclusive; D, policies issued between Jan. 1, 1911, and Dec. 31, 1914, inclusive; E, policies issued subsequent to Dec. 31, 1914): Life and Endowment Policies—Contribution from interest based on excess of 5% over valuation rate; contribution from mortality, series A, B, C, and D, 35% of the tabular cost of insurance, and E, a graded percentage of the tabular cost of insurance averaging 35%; contribution from loading, total loading, less an expense charge of $2.00 per $1,000 plus a percentage of the premium as follows: Series A, B and C, 10% of gross premium; D, 11½% of gross premium; E, 12% of ordinary life gross premium plus 10% of excess premium over ordinary life premium; expense charge on paid-up policies, one-fifth of 1% of reserve.

Retroactive Principles in Practice: Certain features have been made retroactive at various dates, company having no fixed rule as to the granting of privileges to older policies. Company states: "There have been so many changes in the rules and policy forms of the company at various times that it is practically impossible to assemble a complete, statement of them, together with the degree to which they are applicable retroactively. We may say, however, that in general it has been the practice of the company to make the changes retroactive in the absence of any reason to the contrary. For example, in 1910 and again in 1922 the increased surrender values were made retroactive as to all the company's 3½% business, and correspondingly liberal values calculated on the 4% basis, were made applicable to the 4% business, except in the case of certain classes of policies involving the deferred dividend principle under which the equity of the persistent policyholders in the class would have been impaired by granting more liberal values to the discontinuing members than were provided for by the contracts. Grace in payment of premiums without interest, dividend options, present reinstatement, provisions and accelerative features are extended to all policyholders. Disability clause may be attached to old policies, if not more than 20 years old, excepting special forms. Company has not changed reserve basis on old forms, present settlement options available to all old policyholders. Excess interest paid on settlements of all policies, both participating and non-participating. Various other liberal features of present policies have been made retroactive at various dates. Company has no fixed practice in cancelling restrictions in old policies as more liberal conditions are incorporated in new contracts."

Retroactive Principles in Practice: "This company has no definite practice with regard to making new features retroactive. In times past, the benefits of the Maine Non-forfeiture Law which provided extended insurance were given to old policyholders, and the period of grace provision was also extended to old policies. We do not include the disability feature in our forms. Whether other new features that may be adopted as time goes along will be made retroactive cannot, of course, now be said."

U. S. GOVERNMENT LIFE INSURANCE. Under the War Risk Insurance Act every person in the active military or naval service was given the privilege of obtaining from the United States insurance against death and total permanent disability in amounts up to $10,000. The premiums charged by Government permanent insurance are calculated upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with 3½% interest. They are net premiums without any charge for the expense of administration and without extra charge or for hazards of war; these charges will be borne by the Government.

Term Insurance issued during the war or thereafter, may be converted prior to March 4, 1926, to other forms of insurance provided by the government. On that date all Term Insurance not so converted will automatically expire under existing laws.

Premiums on converted Insurance are payable monthly on the first of each month. They may, however, be paid quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. Should the insured become totally permanently disabled or die, the discounted value of the premiums paid in advance, beyond the calendar month in which such disability or death occurs, will be refunded.

All converted policies are participating, and the proceeds are exempt from taxation, and cannot be attached by creditors.

The tables of figures below show the amount of the annual dividend payable on the anniversary date of the policy in 1924, on all insurance which has been in force one year or longer. These figures are based on a policy in the amount of $1,000.

The "Little Gem" Life Chart

Issued in April Each Year

THE REASONS

for the "Little Gem's" Great Popularity with Life Agents are:

It shows more companies and more information regarding each company than any other vest pocket book and yet is still of convenient vest pocket size.

It shows the financial and insurance records of all companies (more than 250), for five years.

It has been used for many years by the older and well-established agents and they "have gotten used to it."

EVEN IF YOU HAVE

The Unique Manual-Digest you will want the "Little Gem" for vest pocket use and because it shows different information from the Manual-Digest or where it treats the same information it shows it IN A DIFFERENT WAY.

It shows the 100 leading companies or 90% of the competition in any field as to

Premiums, Dividends, Cash Values, Net Costs, Policy Synopsis
